

Union Might Strike

Chance For Averting A Walkout Dim

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chances for a settlement that would head off a strike pitting the Teamsters Union against the nation's trucking industry were less than promising today.

As they returned to negotiations with industry bargainers, the Teamster leaders were armed with a vote from the members putting in their hands the decision to call a strike.

The negotiations, covering 450,000 workers in 12,000 trucking firms, by now center on money issues. The employers and the union are believed still to be far apart.

The talks recessed at 2 a.m. today and were to resume at an unscheduled hour.

A nationwide vote of Teamsters trucking locals was overwhelmingly in favor of striking if there is no settlement.

The union's announced strategy would be to strike only a few major firms, but spokesmen for 1,500 major companies represented by Trucking Employers Inc. have threatened to shut down all TEI firms if any are struck.

After the third straight night of all-night sessions, the talks reportedly were snagged over wages. The union's last reported demand was 56 cents per hour over a three-year contract. The industry's last known offer was 37 cents.

Many other issues, including increased per-mile pay for long-distance drivers, health and welfare benefits, and new equipment demanded by the union are also involved.

The votes by which locals across the country authorized the union bargainers to call a strike if necessary included these lopsided totals: 1,991 to 119 by Local 41 of Kansas City, 565 to 19 by Local 414 in Fort Wayne, Ind., and 660 to 24 by Local 443 in New Haven, Conn.

Humphrey, Wilson In Long Talks

LONDON (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey called at the British Foreign Office today, swinging into a series of talks, behind closed doors, on American global policies and relating some of his findings on the Continent during the first part of his "listen, answer and explain" tour.

Humphrey talked at length with Prime Minister Harold Wilson on his arrival from Rome Sunday night for a three-day visit.

He went first today to the American Embassy in Grosvenor Square, where a handful of demonstrators carried signs protesting the war in Vietnam and one man droned over and over, "Stop the bombing in Vietnam."

Embassy staff members crowded the steps and the lobby as the vice president circulated among them, shaking hands with his left hand. His right is in a splint from a fall.

Humphrey's schedule included a working lunch with Foreign Secretary George Brown and dinner tonight with the prime minister.

Humphrey was reported to feel that Hanoi's rejections of peace proposals by President Johnson and Secretary-General U Thant have done the Communists considerable harm among European political circles.

It is his impression that America's European allies are "concerned" about Vietnam and peace but have no genuine disagreement with either the American presence in Vietnam or its objectives there.

Bond Issue At Marshall

Voters Face Many Issues In Elections In Missouri

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Missouri voters will mark ballots Tuesday in city and community elections.

There will be a variety of issues. For instance, Sikeston's residents will take part in a straw vote to determine how the city stands on community antenna television.

Residents of Pemiscot, Dunklin and the southern half of New Madrid county will decide whether to proceed with the organization of the Junior College District of Delta College of Missouri. They also will select six trustees for the proposed district.

The biggest bond issue before the voters will be at Marshall, which has been directed by the Missouri Water Pollution Board to construct no more sewers until a plan is approved to remedy existing deficiencies in the sewer system.

Before the Marshall voters will be a $1.6 million general obligation bond issue and a $1 million revenue bond issue, the money to be used to enlarge the sewer system and replace two overloaded treatment plants with one single unit for the entire city. However, a federal grant will take care of $909,600 of the general obligation issue.

Monett R-1 school district voters will vote on a $650,000 bond issue for a four-building complex to house all elementary grades. A $500,000 sewer bond issue will go before Warrensburg voters.

Boonville voters will have a $370,000 bond issue package before them, broken down this way: $55,000 for land and remodeling of the city hall; $95,000 for fire station and equipment.

Walkout By Union Men

Networks Settle Down To Lengthened Strike Siege

WASHINGTON (AP)—The three television-radio networks settled down to a lengthening strike siege today after union leaders stalked out of negotiations branding as "insulting" a contract offer for newscasters.

"You bet your life," chief union negotiator Donald Conaway said when asked if he was walking out of the talks called by federal mediators.

"The networks regret that the union has decided to terminate these discussions," said NBC Vice President George Fuchs, who also spoke for CBS and ABC.

There was no indication after the blowup when further talks might be set between the networks and the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists in the six-day-old strike. The networks first offered $300 per week plus a percentage of commercial fees for newscasters. The union is demanding $135,000 for a new road from the west side of the city to Interstate 70 business loop and $85,000 for acquiring more property and improving the city's airport.

The Sarcos R-2 school district will vote on a $200,000 bond issue for a new gymnasium and cafeteria and other improvements. Smithton will vote on a $165,000 bond issue to provide the city with the first city-wide sewer system. Diamond R-4 school district will pass on a $70,000 bond issue for additions to the school and Perryville will

Talks Bogged Down

Labor Headaches Throughout Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Discontented municipal employees in Philadelphia and New York, the worsening strike of television and radio network newsmen and the ominously slow pace of Teamsters negotiations all added up today to a labor headache for the nation.

In addition, negotiations between 10 unions and five New York City newspapers seemed to be getting no better.

Most serious of the smoldering labor fires was the threat of a strike by the Teamsters.

Negotiations in Washington covering 450,000 employees of 12,000 trucking firms were to continue today after bargainers, up until 2 a.m., had snatched some sleep. A strike, if one should come, would have far-reaching effects on the nation's systems for distributing essentials such as food.

Teamsters locals throughout the country voted overwhelmingly over the weekend to authorize their leaders at the negotiations to call a strike if and when they feel further talks are useless.

The talks were reportedly down to the main issue: money. The last reported wage demand of the union was 56 cents spread over the three-year contract period. The industry's last reported counter to that was 37 cents.

Discussions between the nation's three principal television-radio networks and the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists stopped cold late Sunday night in Washington.

Despite the insistence of spokesmen for CBS, ABC and NBC that they were willing to keep going, the chief union negotiator, Donald Conaway, led his side out and said he had no idea when negotiations would resume.

"I regret greatly the inconvenience to the American public," Conaway said.

There was no point in continuing, he said.

US Launches Two Major Ground Sweeps In Vietnam

Biggest Operation Of The War

US Currently Has 19 Ground Actions Underway In War

SAIGON (AP)—U. S. military headquarters today announced two new major ground sweeps—including the biggest operation so far by Australian forces in Vietnam—aimed at steadily increasing the pressure on Communist units.

The U.S. command said 19 ground actions are currently under way seeking out Communist units from the highlands to the marshes of the Mekong Delta. But only scattered contact was reported, with 60 to 65 of the enemy killed.

The U.S. command also said the Australian guided missile cruiser Hobart, which joined allied forces off the coast last Friday, shelled a Viet Cong assembly point below Quang Tri City. It was the first offshore bombardment by an Australian ship in the Vietnamese war.

The biggest U.S. ground operation of the war, Operation Junction City in Tay Ninh Province near Cambodia, continued to run into significant numbers of Viet Cong troops in the area where a Red regiment lost at least 581 men last Friday and Saturday. A U.S. spokesman said the U.S. troops reported killing 25 to 30 Viet Cong in scattered skirmishes today.

It appeared that small Viet Cong units were still fleeing the area of the major battle, and U.S. forces were fanning out to catch them.

The Australian ground sweep in coastal Phuoc Tuy Province began March 21 but was kept under security wraps until Monday. It numbers perhaps 4,000 men, including U.S. soldiers under Australian command.

The operation, called Portsea, is aimed at clearing an area long under the control of the Viet Cong and is intended to open local roads so peasants

Republicans Demand LBJ Drop Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican leaders demanded today that President Johnson drop his proposal for a 6 per cent increase in income tax bills and instead push government efforts "to achieve social goals within the nation's current means."

They said Johnson's tax policy is "poorly conceived, poorly timed, and inconsistent."

"If the growth of nondefense expenditures in recent years had been more restrained, this proposed tax increase would not even be under consideration," the Republican Coordinating Committee said. The panel said the administration should immediately suspend its request for a 6 per cent surtax "and devote more efforts to restraining the growth of nondefense spending."

Michigan Gov. George Romney was on hand as the GOP panel drafted its declaration. But other figures in the early maneuvering for the Republican presidential nomination were absent.

The committee said a "deterioration in economic conditions" could send the federal budget deficit soaring from the $8.1 billion Johnson forecast to a level of $25 or $30 billion this year.

They said "the prospective decline in economic conditions" could force abandonment of the $5.5-billion surtax and "may even require a tax reduction to prevent a more serious slump."

The Republicans insisted that spending on social programs at home has increased more rapidly than outlays for defense. They said the administration should "refrain from promising more in immediate welfare and progress than, in the long-run good of the country, can safely be undertaken."

Work Stops In New York Newspaper

NEW YORK (AP)—Another work stoppage in the New York Daily News composing room marked the opening today of negotiations in the citywide newspaper dispute after a Sunday recess.

Talks involving the printers union, one of 10 unions involved, and the Publishers Association of New York City were hardly under way when printers local President Bertram Powers walked out.

Within five minutes Powers was addressing the 10th in a series of "chapel meetings" held in the News composing room to brief members on the strike-threatening situation.

As in the past, work in the composing room came to a halt while the meeting was in progress.

Powers told the printers the News had announced a caucus and negotiations would be resumed later today.

Members of two more unions—the stereotypers and the photoengravers—authorized strikes today.

They set no date for strikes, but voted to allow their negotiating committees to fix the time and place for a walkout if they did not get satisfactory contracts.

The newspapers are the New York Times, Daily News, World Journal Tribune, Long Island

Jury Sworn For Speck Murder Trial

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—A jury of seven men and five women was sworn today for the trial of Richard Speck on charges of murdering eight student nurses.

The seating of the jurors, at the start of the seventh week of the proceedings, cleared the way for opening statements and the taking of testimony.

The six rows of pew-like spectator seats were filled to capacity by 50 men and women.

Six state policemen, wearing holstered pistols, guarded the hallway outside the courtroom in the new Peoria County courthouse. Two uniformed policemen and a policeman searched spectators and newsmen before they were admitted.

Joseph Matusek, father of one of the slain young women, Patricia Matusek, 20, sat in the rear row of spectator benches.

Stopped Armored Truck

Robbers Who Took Almost $400,000 Still At Large

QUINCY, Mass. (AP)—Robbers who stole an estimated $389,000 in cash and checks from an armored truck were still at large today as police conducted fingerprint and ballistic tests for clues.

Four bank bags found Sunday in a wooded area yielded $17,000 in cash and $77,577 in checks taken by the thieves who hijacked the truck Saturday night in a shopping center. Two guards, standing near the truck, chased after the truck, firing several shots trying to stop the robbers.

Capt. Paul LaHive, head of the Quincy detective force, said he was waiting the results of state police fingerprint tests on the truck found abandoned in nearby Weymouth.

LaHive said tests also were under way on two submachine guns and other weapons found in a getaway car left on a Quincy street by the thieves.

LaHive said efforts were being made to trace the weapons which he described as "good ones."

He denied published reports that police were seeking four men in the probe.

LaHive estimated the loot at about $389,000 but declined to give a precise figure "because we just don't know yet." He said he had no information whether the checks were negotiable.

A spokesman for the Skelly Detective Agency, owner of the truck, said a complete check of deposit slips from stores where pickups were made would not be complete until late today.

He declined to estimate the loss beyond saying "it's nowhere near the million figure I've heard used."

He also said the number of stops made by the truck was "classified" but the route extended from Fall River to Salem, N.H.

A man picked up for questioning Sunday was released without charges today by Quincy police.

First Round Of Elections Successful

SAIGON (AP)—The opening round of South Vietnam's village council elections was declared a success today despite scattered Viet Cong terrorism aimed at crippling the voting.

"The Viet Cong failed completely to sabotage the elections Sunday," Vietnamese officials said.

But they reported at least four candidates were murdered, 10 were kidnaped, three policemen and four militiamen were wounded by grenades and three Viet Cong were captured.

A total of 219 villages in 33 of South Vietnam's 43 provinces went to the polls Sunday in the first local election since 1964. Incomplete returns showed 1,299 of the 1,964 village council seats had been filled. There were 2,718 candidates.

Forty-two of the 105 woman candidates have been seated so far. The oldest candidate was 85 and several of the youngest just barely met the minimum age of 25.

Officials said 495,044 of the 614,806 eligible voters cast ballots. Additional elections will be held in secure areas of South Vietnam for the next four Sundays.

Five Sundays of voting for hamlet chiefs and deputy chiefs are scheduled to start May 14.

Cities are not included in the local elections, nor are villages or hamlets seriously menaced by the Communists.

Officials reported 123 Viet Cong-inspired incidents directed at Sunday's voting. These included 34 acts of terrorism and 89 occasions when the Communists employed "armed propaganda" to intimidate voters or candidates.

In one incident in Lam Dong village, Communist guerrillas fired five mortar rounds at the polling place but managed only to postpone the voting one hour while repairs were made.

There are no nationwide political parties in South Vietnam. Most of the candidates ran as independents, although a number had provincial links with such religious sects as the Cao Dai and Hoa Hao or with regional political factions.

The bulk of the candidates were farmers, followed by merchants and civil servants.

Expected To Renew Friendship Pact

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Polish Communist party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka and Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz arrived in Bulgaria today, continuing a drive against West Germany's diplomatic offensive in southeast Europe.

The two leaders were expected to renew their government's 1949 friendship and assistance pact with Bulgaria two years ahead of time.

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I applied for a job at a TV station and went to work last week. I am 23 years old and have worked in a department store and two offices. This TV job is so different from my previous jobs that I am having a difficult time getting accustomed to it. Please tell me if there's something wrong with me or is it the people who work in TV?

Everyone around the studio kisses everyone else good morning and good evening. It is all so casual nobody thinks a thing of it. They even kiss when they leave for lunch. There's a lot of nose tweaking, cheek pinching, lap sitting and fanny patting.

No one has a name. The girls are "Doll" or "Beautiful" or "Baby." The fellows are "Sexy" or "Tiger" or "Big Daddy."

I am not suggesting that people who work in TV have looser morals than other people but the familiarity around this place is a bit too much. I confess my inability to fit in has made me nervous. Do you think I ought to leave or try to be "one of them?" — SQUARE PEG

Dear Peg: You'd better go back to one of those offices where they say "Good morning, Miss Smith." You'll be happier. In the meantime, after this letter appears in print there will probably be 2,000 applicants for your job.

Dear Ann Landers: Our 19-year-old son went with a 17-year-old girl for two years. They were together night and day. When they weren't together they were talking on the telephone. We kept telling them they were too young to be so serious.

They wouldn't listen and the next thing we knew she was pregnant. My husband and I were just sick about it but we could do nothing except let them get married.

Our son received his draft papers a few weeks ago and wants his wife to live with us. We told him she would have to live with her folks because we have no room. Our two younger children share the second bedroom and we would have to put them in the living room.

Are we mean and have we let him down, as he says? — INDIANAPOLIS MOTHER

Dear Mother: No! And don't let your son and his wife draft YOU. Stick to your position or you'll wind up being nurse, sister, maid and chief bottle washer.

Dear Ann Landers: It took a lot of courage for you to print the letter from that nut who accused you of being an animal hater. I would like to say a word on the subject.

On our block almost everyone has a dog. These dog owners say it is cruel to keep a dog tied up. They think it's perfectly all right to let a dog run loose, mess up the neighbor's lawn, dig up tulip bulbs, bite delivery men and sometimes get hit by a car. When-

Mayor Yorty Wants Entertainment Center

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mayor Samuel W. Yorty wants a "totally integrated entertainment industry center" in Hollywood as its answer to New York City.

Yorty told the 17th annual American Cinema Editors Awards dinner Saturday that the center proposed by the city of Los Angeles would embrace motion picture, television, radio and record production industries.

A 740-acre site recommended by the Los Angeles Economic Development Board is the city's reply to a recent bid by New York Mayor John V. Lindsay to attract entertainment industries to Manhattan, Yorty said.

He said Hollywood is recognized as the center of motion picture production with facilities involving hundreds of millions of dollars.

"We hope other firms will recognize the city's concern and move to Hollywood or expand facilities already there," he said.

Americans And Cavities Amid Columnist's Mail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

A dental expert estimates Americans have more than 700 million unfilled cavities.

The newest status symbol among skin-diving devotees is to have prescription lenses ground for their underwater goggles.

Some authorities believe that one reason women are safer drivers than men is that they daydream less while behind the wheel.

A study has found that families which include working wives spend 15 per cent more for alcohol and 10 per cent more for tobacco than those in which the wives remain at home.

Carrie Feted At Parties

CHICAGO (AP) — Carrie Stephens, who was found unharmed Saturday night, was feted at parties over the weekend, while the man charged with her abduction last Monday was being held in county jail under $100,000 bond.

Carrie, 8, was returned home after police found her in a North Side apartment with Michael Zito, 51.

Zito, charged with aggravated kidnaping, remained silent throughout his court appearance Sunday.

The girl had been the object of an intensive five-day search. After a physical examination, doctors said Carrie had not been molested.

Police said Carrie identified Zito as her abductor and told them "the man did not harm me." Police found the two after receiving a tip from a woman in the neighborhood.

Playmates of Carrie told police last week that the girl was taken from a neighborhood street by a fat man who offered the youngsters $1 to help find his dog. Police said their description of the abductor matched Zito except that he has only one arm.

Carrie told police that she was alone in the apartment with her abductor during the five days she was missing. She said she left the apartment once to use a bathroom, but returned voluntarily "because I didn't know my way home." She said she was "scared the whole time."

Carrie's family celebrated her return and her father's 42nd birthday on Saturday night. Playmates and friends crowded into the family's three-room apartment to welcome Carrie back.

"This is the happiest birthday of my life," said Daniel Stephens, Carrie's father.

Mrs. Stephens said she "just started bawling" when she saw Carrie. "You could hear me five blocks away. Carrie started crying too, then my husband came in and we all cried together," she said.

Mrs. Stephens said she had never seen Zito before.

Another party was held for Carrie and her friends Sunday at her home.

Zito's hearing was continued until today after police told Magistrate James M. Bailey that Zito served 60 days in jail in 1952 on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

People in a food-short tomorrow may munch on dried yeast instead of meat, since yeast can make protein more efficiently than any other plant or animal on earth. A pig produces only six pounds of pork for every 100 pounds of feed; yeast, on the same amount of feed, yields 65 pounds of protein.

Washington Capsules

WASHINGTON (AP) — One drawback to being mayor of New York, says the mayor himself, is that for a politician it's the end of the road.

This position was advanced Sunday by Mayor John V. Lindsay in a copyright interview in U.S. News & World Report.

Asked if he feels the Republican party might want him for national office if he makes a good showing as mayor, Lindsay said no.

"If a mayor succeeds in New York City in making it run properly, making it a place where people want to live and be productive," he said, "he's got to shoot all his credit cards. To do the job right, you must spend yourself politically."

WASHINGTON (AP) — New natural gas and oil reserves continue to be found in the United States faster than existing stocks are depleted. Additions to proved reserves of natural gas totaled better than 20 trillion cubic feet last year. This meant a net increase of nearly 3 trillion cubic feet after subtracting amounts used in production or put in underground storage.

And the American Petroleum Institute reported that liquid hydrocarbon recoverable reserves increased 405 million barrels during the year to 39 billion, 781 million barrels.

TV Still Plagued By Strike

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The strike of the television performers, union against the three major networks continued to plague the daytime and news shows, but did not affect the filmed series from the Hollywood studios.

Ed Sullivan's hour Sunday night was a rerun of recent vintage. But NBC's Frank McGee report was apparently forced by a shortage of suitable domestic picture stories to make his major subject a grisly feature showing Italian hunters shooting song birds — larks and gold finches — with rifles as a sport.

ABC, shooting a basketball game in Boston, found itself with only one camera but struggled on in black and white. It seemed to this viewer that NBC's "College Bowl" was suffering, too, from some erratic camera work.

Hard-luck program of the entire weekend was NBC's special edition of "Meet the Press." Originally it had been scheduled for Sunday night to demonstrate how an interview could be conducted in color by satellite. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was to be in Washington, interviewed by five foreign newsmen in London. Then Mr. Humphrey was sent on his European tour and Secretary of State Dean Rusk was substituted. Came the AFTRA strike and Mr. Rusk cautiously pulled out and former Undersecretary of State George W. Ball — in Paris — was interviewed by the five newsmen in London.

NBC's "Experiment in Television" pretaped for broadcast Sunday afternoon was a most interesting demonstration of acting by a group of performers who communicated by sign language. The actors in this "Theatre of the Deaf" were most effective in scenes from "Hamlet," but also showed their versatility in a song and dance number from "Guys and Dolls."

The strike continues to upset the daytime schedules. Two new game shows are postponed — ABC's "One in a Million" and NBC's "Snap Judgment," both scheduled to start today.

ABC will return "Father Knows Best" to its schedule in place of "General Hospital."

ABC's fall schedule, announced over the weekend, confirmed previous reports that "Batman" will be reduced to a single 30-minute show next season and that lawyer F. Lee Bailey will be host on a weekly interview show, now called "Inside Out" but along "Person-to-Person" lines. The network also announced that Carol Channing

Gandhi's Position Threatened

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Three weeks after her re-election as India's prime minister, Indira Gandhi's position is threatened by defections from her Congress party.

Congress party members have bolted in two Indian states, leaving the party with legislative majorities in only seven of 16 states. Some fear that the defections will reach the national level and reduce or wipe out the party's 20-seat majority in Parliament.

The Cabinet Mrs. Gandhi formed last month after India's general elections could then fall on a parliamentary vote of no confidence. Although Mrs. Gandhi's personal position appears in danger, observers expect the Congress party to retain power.

All six opposition parties in Parliament would have to unite and be joined by at least 15 defectors from the Congress to put together a new parliamentary majority, and there appears to be no conceivable prospect of this happening.

After ruling India unchallenged since the country became independent 20 years ago, the Congress party has declined both in appeal to the voters and party discipline. The party lost 82 parliamentary seats in the February elections and its nearly complete monopoly of the state legislatures was broken.

Seventeen party members joined opposition legislators in Uttar Pradesh State over the weekend and brought down the Congress government by a 215-198 vote.

The leader of the dissidents, Charan Singh, 64, was sworn in today at the state's new chief minister to head a coalition of all major non-Congress parties. Singh cut his ties with the Congress after 45 years because of differences with local party leaders.

Uttar Pradesh, with 75 million residents, is India's most populous state and Mrs. Gandhi's birthplace. Her personal popularity in the state seemed undimmed, as she was warmly received Sunday on a tour of its eastern regions to inspect drought damage.

Thirteen Congress party members defected in Hariana State two weeks ago.

In addition, the party's slim majorities in the legislatures of Assam, Andhra Pradesh and Mysore States are menaced by factionalism and disputes among party leaders.

The War to End All Wars

With war official after Wilson's request to Congress (see arrow above), war fever gripped the nation. Women practiced pistol shooting in gun clubs to "protect the home front" if necessary, and Liberty bonds went on sale portraying the Huns as Godless infidels, child-killers and rapists. America's innocence and isolation were over, but its citizens were confident any of their doughboys could lick a whole regiment of Bosche with a minimum of trouble. Nineteen months later it was over, at the cost of 53,513 American dead.

They went marching off to war in glorious parades, to the tune of "Over There."

The war, however, was one muddy trench after another.

A peace-loving president had vowed to keep his country out of war, but the Allies were reeling before the kaiser and German subs were sinking American ships. During Holy Week in 1917, America debated entry in the war, in scenes not unlike modern-day conflict over Vietnam. Finally President Wilson asked Congress for a declaration of war, approved April 6.

It was a strange new war of strange new weapons, such as the tank, the aeroplane and mustard gas, which struck down those who neglected to put on their gas masks in time.

After Three Months

French Couple Rescued At Sea By Betty Jane

DARWIN, Australia (AP) — After three months shipwrecked on a tropical island and three days at sea on a submerged water-logged raft, Henri Bourdens told his wife he was sorry but he was going to die.

"I asked him: 'Please wait for me, we must go together,' and he said he would try to live one more day," Mrs. Bourdens, 48, said today.

By the end of that day — Saturday — the ketch Betty Jane had rescued the French couple whose yacht was wrecked by a cyclone on the shores of Bathurst Island in late December.

Mrs. Bourdens said that on Saturday her husband's face looked like that of a dying man — "white despite his sunburn" — but he "was just dozing with his chin on the water when I saw that mirage — but it was not a mirage, it was a boat."

The raft's deck was under three feet of water and "two people looking more like strange wild animals were sticking out of the water," a crewman of the Betty Jane said.

The Betty Jane was en route to Darwin, 75 miles south of where the raft was found.

Alerted by his wife, Bourdens set off a smoke bomb to catch the Betty Jane's attention, and it nearly scared the boat away. The crew first thought the raft was an artillery target but then decided to investigate.

From his hospital bed in Darwin, Bourdens called the three-month ordeal "a foretaste of hell."

His wife said they built the raft when they were certain they were dying of starvation. "We lived on sea snails for most of the two months after the food from the yacht ran out — except for one small kangaroo shot by Henri," Mrs. Bourdens said.

"That was the most wonderful meal ever. We roasted it on a spit and I made wallaby tail soup," she said. "That recipe will sell for a thousand dollars but nobody will want it because they would have to be hungry like us to appreciate it."

She said three days they spent in a mangrove swamp on the island were the most terrifying of her life. For a while, they were trapped up to the waist in slimy water and often heard animals fighting around them, she added.

They saw crocodiles and "hundreds of snakes, sometimes wrapped together like huge worms."

She saw her husband sink to his shoulders in mud and thought he was lost in quicksand.

One night they scooped out a turtle nest and slept in it for warmth.

After they built the raft, Mrs. Bourdens wrote a long letter to their two children in France.

"I wanted them to know what had happened to us and I cried all the time I wrote it," she said.

On the raft, chest deep in water when they were sitting, "We never saw an airplane or a boat," said Mrs. Bourdens. "It seemed there was nothing else to do but wait for the will of God and hope He would be merciful."

"Then those wonderful men of the Betty Jane came to us and we were aboard."

The couple were trying to sail to France on a 45-foot yacht Bourdens had bought in Singapore. Hampered by water in their fuel, they tried to steer for the island of Timor but ended up 300 miles to the south, shipwrecked in an uninhabited area of Bathurst Island. They didn't know that a Roman Catholic mission was 40 miles away on the other side of the island.

Bourdens, a former airline pilot and author of several books, said as soon as they are able, they will try to resume the voyage. The wrecked yacht was not insured, they said.

Coppolino's Murder Trial Begins Today

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — Whether a drug could be detected a year after death may be the crux of Dr. Carl Coppolino's murder trial starting today.

Choice of a jury — expected to be exhaustive — was the first order of business. The anesthesiologist is charged with first degree murder in the death of his first wife.

Defense Attorney F. Lee Bailey and prosecutor Frank Schaub have 69 prospective jurors to choose from in selecting a panel of 12 plus two alternates.

The case was shifted from Sarasota, where Carmela Coppolino, 32, died in her bed Aug. 28, 1965, after the defense and prosecution agreed that news coverage of the case made it unlikely that an unbiased jury could be seated there.

The trial will be the second in four months for Coppolino, 34, on a first-degree murder charge. He was acquitted in Freehold, N.J., last December in the 1963 slaying of William Farber, a former neighbor. Bailey also was the defense attorney there.

Indictments in the two states followed a statement to Sarasota authorities by Farber's widow, Marjorie, 52, that she was suspicious of the causes of both deaths.

The bodies were exhumed for autopsy.

A grand jury charged that Coppolino murdered his wife with an injection of a drug — succinylcholine chloride — which paralyzed then killed her. Coppolino has pleaded innocent.

Mrs. Farber, who moved to Sarasota near the Coppolinos after her husband's death, testified in New Jersey that she and Coppolino had been lovers.

She went to authorities soon after Coppolino took as his second wife a wealthy divorcee, Mary Williams Gibson, 39, within two months of Carmela's death.

Defense and prosecution will family expected to be criticized for having this wedding so soon after Valerie's death. And they have. Sharon has even had threatening phone calls from screwballs. But the Percys felt that a young girl is entitled to the kind of wedding she always dreamed of, and they feel quite certain it is what Valerie would want.

Among the guests at a reception following the wedding were President Johnson's daughter, Lynda Bird, actors George Hamilton and Maurice Chevalier, New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, Michigan Gov. George Romney and a host of Rockefeller's.

seek medical testimony of experts as to the presence of the drug in Carmela's body and whether it could be detected after death.

Schaub intends to call as witnesses Mrs. Farber and Dr. Milton Helsen, chief medical examiner for New York City who examined body parts of the victim.

Bailey, 33, is expected to call experts to testify as to the use of a radioactive method of tracing the drug by counting carbon 14 in the victim's system.

Judge Lynn Silvertooth has banned newsmen's cameras near the court building and closed the courtroom to artists and tape recorders. The 34 accredited reporters may not leave or enter the 108-seat courtroom except at recess.

Jurors will be sequestered in a motel without television, radio or newspapers. Principals in the trial are prohibited from talking to newsmen.

Trombone Player Dies During Concert

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Avery Lopusser, who played the trombone with his bare foot, died Sunday before a crowd estimated by officials at "at least 2,000."

Lopusser, 66, was playing with a local orchestra at a municipal park concert to promote a jazz festival for young musicians when he took the horn from his lips and called out: "Is there a doctor in the crowd?"

He then collapsed and died within minutes of an apparent heart attack.

Income Tax Deadline Helps Make Old Poet A Prophet

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — April is the cruellest month, the poet said, and already some evidence of this has been provided by April fool jokes and more support is upcoming April 17, the deadline for income tax payments.

The showers seem also to be drawing some flowers from the dead land, risking death by frostbite perhaps in the unpredictable economic climate.

Some sap seems to flow again through that dried and shriveled husk called consumer confidence. There seems some indication now that nourishment is being provided by those swollen savings accounts.

Evidence that the consumer might become more active in the market comes from the University of Michigan.

The latest Michigan survey shows the confidence line, which had dropped steadily for a year or so, has begun to wiggle upward a bit. Hopefully it will continue to strain that way.

Reflecting this hope, General Motors officials say there are now definite signs of a spring upturn in automobile sales. "There is a rising reservoir of consumer cash reserves for needed and wanted purchases," an official said.

This statement sounds very good until the damp cloud of memory obscures the sunny outlook, reminding the listener that the statement is similar to what auto officials have said weekly throughout the automotive sales drought.

This is the critical month for the automotive industry. If the consumer is not "strongly tempted," as GM officials hope he will be, then this could really be a horrible year for autos.

Already car dealers begin April with 1.5 million vehicles, or enough for the next two months without additional production. Such inventories, and the realization that they must be worked off, awe economic analysts.

There is a more positive direction to the recent turn in interest rates. Most money men feel rates will continue to fall. Some even foresee another drop this month in the prime interest rate, a rate basic to all others.

But there is evidence also that the rising thermometer might also measure a rise in some consumer prices. And rising prices, tempers and temperatures is the formula for a long hot summer for the housewife and those near her when she explodes.

Jobs will continue to be plentiful during April, despite layoffs in spots and a possible further reduction in the number of overtime hours available.

Estimates early in April of the direction the stock market might take are not nearly as precise. Neither are the forecasts clearly on the side of the bulls, as some people seem to think. Many advisors, including some to the big institutional investors, still see mixed weather. Some even are suspicious.

Van Dyke May Turn To Politics

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Last year the voters of California might have been faced with a three-way contest for governor: Ronald Reagan, Edmund G. Brown — and Dick Van Dyke.

"At that time I was seriously thinking of running on an independent ticket," Van Dyke says. "We would have stumped the state in an attempt to split Reagan's votes and demonstrate how ridiculous it is for an actor to begin his electoral career by running for governor."

"Only one thing stopped us: We were afraid I might get elected."

Although Van Dyke declined to run in 1966, his friends are wondering if he might not be available for public office after 1971. That's the date when he plans to give up his acting career and devote himself to helping humanity.

The Hollywood crowd, which has never quite understood Dick Van Dyke, has viewed his so-called five-year plan with skepticism. He has announced that five years after ending his highly successful television series — that was just a year ago — he would abandon show business for more altruistic pursuits.

At this point he is not certain where the new life will take him. He is a devout Presbyterian and is likely to be active in church affairs. He also is interested in using films and television for religious and educational purposes.

Wouldn't politics be a logical extension of his proposed new life?

"Well, I hadn't thought about that," he admitted. "But I guess it's true that if you want to get things done in the world today, you have to get in politics. That's where the action is."

Proponents of "Van Dyke for president" should not start opening headquarters yet. Their man will not be available for a draft, having engendered one of the heaviest production schedules of any film star.

Youth for Natural Beauty
Beautifying America is a natural for 4-H members. Unlimited opportunities exist for them to work individually and together to help make our nation a more beautiful land. You will find in Missouri that 4-H club members in local clubs are working together in joint efforts with other youth groups and in cooperation with adult organizations and public agencies for Natural Beauty Program.

There are projects and activities for every 4-H group regardless of age or experience. Beginners may make and plant window boxes for homes; plant small gardens in front of homes; paint and place old oil drums as litter barrels in public places; stage a clean-up parade; make, distribute and service bird feeders; make and distribute litter bags for cars; work with highway and street departments in planting flowers and shrubs near parking lots, on traffic islands and along highway lane dividers; begin a drive to paint mail boxes and ring them with flowers or obtain permission to clean up neglected cemeteries.

Flowers are natural and wonderful for beautification. Flowers can be fun. It will soon be time to plant them. You can start from seeds, plants, cuttings or bulbs. No doubt your club will decide on some kind of flowers that all of you will grow at your own homes. Then there will be community beautification to do such as parks and around public buildings. Your 4-H leader can show you how to plant and care for the flowers. At your own home you may want to plant one or more flowers that other members are not growing. Your leaders, someone in your family, or a good gardener friend will help you to make your choice and get started. You can't possibly grow everything that you like and want to plant only the things that you can care for properly.

The following are some of the things that have already been done or in the process in counties of Missouri through the 4-H clubs. In Ste. Genevieve County, a club has urged friends to care properly for plants and have planted dogwood along the highway and exchanged flowers among the club members and other people of the community. In Crawford County the club

Vandals Hit Cemetery Twice In Two Weeks

SPOTSWOOD, N.J. (AP) — Vandals attacked a historic Middlesex church yard cemetery Sunday for the second time in two weeks, overturning 36 tombstones and demolishing some dating back to the Revolutionary War.

The Rev. Canon J. Perry Cox, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, estimated damages at the 211-year-old cemetery would run about $10,000. A dozen tombstones-including those of the first three pastors of the church-were demolished. Five tombstones had been overturned at St. Peter's two weeks ago.

rated the inside of our school house which is our regular meeting place. We have also planted many thousands of multi-floral roses really with the thought of conservation, but I think it adds beauty as well."

A 4-H member from Audrain County says, "Our club has made and erected flower boxes at each end of town and helped to clean up the city park."

Yes, it is fun to grow flowers. Growing flowers fits the beautification program at home or as a community activity. You can see from these examples that working together as a group provides community beautification. The spirit of this program will also produce more flowers at home.

Every community has something which can be done to make it more attractive, more naturally beautiful. Your group can help. Youth can set the examples for adults.

Five Killed In Missouri Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Five persons were killed in traffic accidents in Missouri over the weekend.

Christine Elizabeth Palchiff, 14, Springfield, Mo., was killed Sunday night when a car in which she was riding was hit by a Frisco train.

She was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Chris Palchiff. Her father saw the accident and took the girl and her date, 16-year-old Stephen Harlow Pease, to a hospital. The young people were on their way to a church party. Pease was not believed seriously hurt.

Two Excelsior Springs young men were killed Saturday night when their car hit a bridge abutment and went over an embankment on Highway 13 near Henrietta in northwest Missouri. They were Richard Carder, 19, the driver, and Gary Lynn, 22.

They were on their way to the Missouri Pacific Hospital when their car hit a signal island. McBride was seriously injured in the crash.

Daniel Hamilton, 44, Harrison, Ark., was killed Friday night in the collision of two trucks on Interstate 44, about 13 miles east of Joplin.

He said the two guards "were standing beside the truck changing keys in order to swap assignments when the thieves slipped into the cab."

He said company policy calls for the two-man truck crew to take turns driving and going into the stores.

"The man whose turn it is to drive has the key to the front door," Connell said. "And the other carries a key to a different lock on a rear door."

In a string of armored car holdups $350,000 was taken last year in the Boston area. The two largest were $131,000 taken from a Brinks Inc. truck at Bedford, and $68,000 taken four days later from an Armored Banking Service truck by three masked men armed with automatic weapons.

At the same time the Australians moved out, more than 1,500 U.S. soldiers of the 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade swept into the coastal mountain area of Phu Yen and Khanh Hoa Provinces in Operation Summerall. It, too, was kept under security wraps until today.

Neither operation encountered significant Viet Cong forces in the initial phases, the U.S. command said.

The heaviest ground fighting today was by troops of the South Korean Tiger Division who killed 16 Viet Cong in a sharp fight in Phu Yen Province on the coast. Two Korean divisions there are trying to clear a large area of the central coast and reopen the main north-south highway.

Also on the coast, soldiers of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division killed 19 Viet Cong in Binh Dinh Province Sunday, while six of the Americans were killed and 20 were wounded.

All of the coastal operations are aimed partly at driving Viet Cong units back into the jungles and mountains where they cannot live off the country and where air power can blast them at base camps.

U.S. B52 bombers from Guam made three such raids in South Vietnam Sunday night and today, all against jungle areas where air and ground intelligence had spotted Communist bivouacs. One of the raids today struck at an enemy base camp only 25 miles east of Saigon.

In Bangkok, Thai and American officials said that American B52's will not begin arriving at their new base in southern Thailand today as previously announced. An American spokesman said the big bombers are not due at the Utopia airbase for "a week or two."

A spokesman for the Thai supreme command said the first B52 is scheduled to arrive at Utopia next Friday. Thai Premier Thanom Kittikachorn said last Monday the first three B52's would arrive today at Utopia.

Sedalian Wins Test Of Oratory

Dennis Bruns, 15, son of Mrs. William C. Bergmann, 2320 West Fifth, and the late Rev. Leo Bruns, won first place in the Zone E Boys Oratorical Contest sponsored by Optimist International which was held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Central Motor Bank in Jefferson City. He will now go to district contest on May 5, in Raytown, where he will compete with district winners from all over Missouri.

Thilbert Newton, Lt. Governor, was in charge of the zone contest.

Second place winner was Steve Malleneckrodt, Fulton; third place winner, Paul Duke, Jefferson City; and the other two contestants were Mike Walther, Jefferson City and Tony Garraia, Rolla.

This is the third year straight that the Sedalia Noon Optimist Club has had the first place winner to go to the district contest. Last year and the year before Bruce Kueck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kueck, placed first in Zone E.

Accompanying Dennis to Jefferson City were: R. L. Settles, president of the Sedalia Noon Optimist Club; Marvin Kueck, chairman of the Boys Oratorical Contest, and Mrs. Kueck; and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wenig.

Carrier pilots hit coastal traffic at the mouth of the Red River east and southeast of Haiphong. A Phantom jet from the Enterprise pinpointed a 500-pound bomb on a 100-foot barge carrying oil and left it flaming in the mouth of the river.

Other Air Force and Navy pilots ranged up and down the coast from the delta area to the 17th Parallel and to the west where Red supply routes filter across the Laotian border to the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

Vietnamese military headquarters announced that South Vietnam's air force will receive its first jet fighter-bombers from the United States in mid-April, and they will go into action in June.

The plane will be the supersonic F5 Freedom fighter, which the U.S. Air Force is already using in Vietnam. The headquarters said 31 Vietnamese air force officers completed combat crew training at Williams Air Force Base, Ariz., last week and are the first pilots qualified in the Freedom fighter.

Johnson Achieves Goal In Weekend With Diplomats

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's weekend wooing of Latin diplomats in his native Texas seems to have achieved its limited goal—generating increased goodwill for the United States.

Comments from the President's guests—29 Latin-American envoys and their ladies—were enthusiastic.

"A thrill to come here," said Dr. Rodrigo Jacome, ambassador from Ecuador to the Organization of American States. He termed it a "well-organized weekend" and voiced only one regret: that he did not have more time for sightseeing and other tourist-type activities.

Mrs. Celso Pastor, wife of the ambassador from Peru and sister of that country's president, fairly bubbled as she summed up her feelings: "The most unblemished weekend I've ever had. The President tried to show us a part of his wonderful state and we're so grateful."

The ambassadors said in a statement upon their departure from Texas that Johnson's initiative in inviting them to the ranch was of "special significance" coming near the April 12-14 meeting of American chiefs of state Punta del Este, Uruguay.

They predicted the forthcoming conference would contribute to the deepening and speeding up of continental solidarity.

The ambassadors said that from the moment of their arrival to the moment of departure each had a complete sensation that their visit was like being in their own homes.

Some of the diplomats were particularly pleased because they had expected Johnson to try to sell them "a bill of goods." In his statements to them, he never even mentioned the hemisphere summit or, in any other way, put pressure on them, they said.

The diplomats, who flew to Texas with the President and Mrs. Johnson Friday night, returned to Washington aboard the presidential jet late Sunday. The Johnsons returned later on a smaller craft.

The Texas sojourn produced no serious discussions of hemisphere problems.

White House sources said today this house was in keeping with Johnson's basic plan for the weekend—to seek a closer personal relationship with Latin ambassadors based in Washington. They said he never intended to engage in policy talks in Texas.

With scant advance notice, the President and Mrs. Johnson joined the diplomats for the final public event on the weekend program—attendance at a Roman Catholic Mass in the historic San Fernando Cathedral in San Antonio. Built in 1738, the church serves as the tomb for the defenders of the Alamo.

Archbishop Robert E. Lucey, an old Johnson friend who is considered a liberal in his approach to social reforms, asserted in his sermon that American intervention in the Vietnam war is morally justified and a moral national duty.

The 75-year-old archbishop also defended Johnson's peace efforts and took an off-the-cuff swipe at Vietnam dissenters.

Said the cleric: "If anyone thinks that the President of the United States has not made every effort, sincerely and honestly, to bring our adversaries to the peace table and to terminate the war on terms fair and honorable to both sides, he should study current events."

Changes Advised For Sponsors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield advises sponsors to make changes if they want to save the law permitting an income tax checkoff for presidential campaign financing.

Mansfield said before Congress returned today from a 10-day Easter vacation that the Senate is faced with the responsibility to make the law more equitable.

"When we passed this legislation last year," he said, "we made a commitment to give consideration in this Congress to filling in the gaps. We must plug up the loopholes to make it more effective and to see to it that it is equitably administered."

The issue comes before the Senate today as Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., attempts to repeal the plan aimed at making $30 million available for each major party to finance its presidential nominee's campaign.

This fund would be created by permitting each individual to earmark $1 of his income tax to be divided equally between the two parties.

Gore complains the law is so loosely worded that parts of it are unconstitutional and others provide no safeguards on how the money would be spent.

World News In Brief

ATHENS (AP) — King Constantine canceled a conference today with leaders of all political parties to seek a solution to Greece's government crisis after former Premier George Papandreou refused to attend.

Papandreou heads the Center Union, the largest party in Parliament, and it is doubtful that any government can be formed without his agreement.

There was no indication of what the king would do next in the crisis, which began four days ago when Papandreou withdrew support from Premier John Paraskevopoulos. The premier resigned.

Paraskevopoulos opposed Papandreou's attempt to broaden the immunity of members of Parliament to protect his son, Andreas, from prosecution in connection with Aspidia, the leftist military group charged with plotting to overthrow the monarchy.

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (AP) — A bush pilot who huddled under six sleeping bags for 58 days before being rescued from his downed plane near the Arctic Circle was reported in good shape today although he lost 54 of his 189 pounds and will lose five toes.

Robert Gauchie, 39, was taken off a frozen lake Saturday by another flier who spotted sunlight glinting off the windshield of Gauchie's plane. Gauchie was waiting with a bag packed when his rescuers, Glen Stevens and Ron Sheardown, landed their ski plane.

Doctors said Gauchie would lose three toes from his left foot tighten provisions but may withhold them if he can defeat Gore's repealer.

Long wants hearings in which his committee could look into recommendations made by a study group to President Johnson but not yet released by the White House.

The outcome of Gore's fight may depend on which tack Senate Republicans take. Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., a finance committeeman, is supporting Gore.

But whether Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen will throw his weight behind the repeal move remains to be seen.

GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss told a weekend news conference Republicans are taking no party position on the matter. But he said conferences with party congressional leaders led him to believe that most would favor a straight tax deduction for political contributions.

and two from his right because of frostbite but otherwise was in good shape.

Gauchie ran out of fuel in a blizzard Feb. 2. His radio equipment didn't work and he was presumed dead after three weeks of searching. The heavily bearded Canadian pilot ate survival rations and fish from his cargo and was strong enough to leave the rescue plane unaided when it landed at Yellowknife.

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — President Eduardo Frei's Christian Democratic party has been weakened by municipal elections in which Frei had asked the voters to demonstrate support for the party's national policies. But it still is Chile's chief political force.

Christian Democrats got 37 per cent of the vote as 1,629 municipalities Sunday, a decline from the 42.3 per cent they received two years ago. In second place, the Communists won 16.5 per cent of the vote, and the centrist Radicals got 15.9 per cent. Other parties trailed.

Middle-class voters expressed discontent with inflation and new taxes by supporting Radical and National Party rightist candidates. About 35 per cent of the 3 million registered voters did not cast ballots, the highest percentage of abstention in recent years.

New 'In' Was 'In'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new "in" was "in" in Washington Sunday when the thermometer climbed to the high 80s.

Called "the first organized boatless white-water float-in," the idea was to shoot the rapids of the Potomac for two miles with the aid of rubber inner tubes.

Thirty of the human water bugs in skin diver suits made the rough journey above Washington. Last to go was bearded Clement Acker of Washington who shouted, "We who are about to die salute you!" Down a can of beer, he jumped into the swirling white water.

There were no reported casualties.

NEW YORK (AP) — Lynn Redgrave, tall and blonde British actress, and actor John Clark, once a child star in Britain, were married Sunday.

The bride, 23, nominated for an Academy Award for her role as the awkward and gangling "Georgy Girl," was attended by her actress sister, Vanessa, also nominated for an Oscar.

Sir Michael Redgrave and Rachel Kempson, famous British actors, flew from London for the first marriage of their daughter.

The bridegroom, 34, was divorced two weeks ago in Mexico from his first wife, Canadian actress Kay Hawtrey. He has just left the cast of "Macbird," an off-Broadway play.

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP) — A city policeman was injured Saturday night after a performance by the Monkees, a mop-haired American singing group, at the Winnipeg Arena.

The policeman, whose name was not released, was struck by a wire fence which collapsed when thousands of fans surged towards the rear exit in an unsuccessful bid to catch a glimpse of their departing idols.

The policeman was treated in a hospital for cuts on his head and arms and released.

Two members of the singing group were knocked to the ground by teen-agers when they left the Fort Garry Hotel for the arena.

Don Berrigan, the group's public relations man, said leader Mike Nesmith and Davey Jones, British-born singer, were not hurt but were "pretty badly shaken."

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — Two California girls studying here were delayed by language difficulties in showing Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey their sign welcoming him on his visit to Florence.

The banner read: "Hello HHH. We all like you."

The girls — Dede Banker, 21, and Janice Banducci, 22, of Humboldt State College, Arcata, Calif. — met Humphrey Sunday when he went to visit the Uffizi Gallery.

Galbraith Attacks U. S. Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Kenneth Galbraith, former U.S. ambassador to India, says the Vietnam war is "unnecessary" and "will be even more disastrous for the Democratic party."

Galbraith spoke Sunday as newly elected president of Americans for Democratic Action, which called Saturday night at its convention here for acceptance "without qualifications" of United Nations Secretary-General U Thant's proposals for ending the war.

The Thant proposals, however, were rejected Sunday by Nhan Dan, North Vietnam's official newspaper. The Hanoi publication was particularly critical of their lacking any reference to the Viet Cong.

Galbraith said when he heard generals "or high State Department officials speak blithely of a five- or ten-year war I am willing to believe that they have not considered the political consequences."

"Perhaps they can afford to be indifferent. But for the rest of us there is no excuse for innocence. This disaster could, indeed, mean the death and burial of the Democratic party," he told ADA.

Various aspects of U.S.-Vietnam policy also came under attack by four senators in separate forums.

Sens. John Stennis, D-Miss., and Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., urged a harder line but Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., criticized the resumption of bombing. Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., complained of an information gap between Congress and the war leaders.

Elements of the war policy were defended by George W. Ball, the State Department's former No. 2 man.; Roman Catholic Archbishop Robert E. Lucey of San Antonio, who was sermonizing with President Johnson in the congregation; and Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman of Thailand.

come and said he was glad that he finally saw the sign.

The girls told Humphrey that police, breaking up antiwar demonstrations when Humphrey arrived in Florence Saturday, yanked the sign away from the girls who had raised it over the welcoming crowd.

The police returned the banner and apologized after it was translated for them. The police said they had thought it was a protest sign.

The word "monsoon"—periodic winds in certain latitudes—comes from the arabic word "mausim" which means a time, a season. At first monsoon referred to the winds over the Arabian Sea, which blow six months from the northeast and six months from the southwest, says The World Almanac. Later the word was used to refer to similar winds in other parts of the world. In India, the southwest monsoon is almost synonymous with "rain" which the wind brings.
